Authority Of W.L.B. Defied By Head Of Miners

Lewis Refuses To Appear At Hearing Before W. L. B. At Washington

STAGE IS SET FOR COAL STRIKE

By JACK VINCENT
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, today defied the authority of the War Labor Board and refused to appear for a hearing into the unions' wage controversy with soft coal operators.

A spokesman for the mine union announced in New York that Lewis has no plans whatever to leave that city for Washington today.

Neither did Lewis send any representatives of the United Mine Workers to the board meeting. The labor chief has maintained that the WLB is "packed" against unions.

The hearing was scheduled to open at 10 a. m. sharp, and counsel for operators were present at that time. After waiting 10 minutes Chairman William H. Davis called the meeting to order and the deliberations began with no union officials present.

Southern operators were represented by former Senator Edward Burke, and northern operators were led by Charles O'Neill.

Part Proceeding

The board's hearing, with Lewis absent, now turned out to be an ex-parte proceeding. Under this procedure the board can conduct a hearing and make findings and then demand that the operators and the miners accept their ruling.

Lewis' blunt defiance of the board by refusing to attend was expected.

We can't keep the home fires burning with cheer. One way is to help in the war effort is to get into the second war loan campaign.

Word of laying out the beds in the Community Rose Garden in the city park opposite Jameson Memorial hospital has been completed. Plans of the Lawrence County Garden club are to have 15,000 ever-blooming hybrid tea roses in the garden when it is completed.

The Lenten season which started on Ash Wednesday, March 10, came to a close at noon today, and tomorrow is Easter Sunday.

Spring rode down Mercer street Friday afternoon in the form of a car with the "top down."

Two startled-looking young ladies were seen driving in the downtown section Thursday evening according to word received from an observer. Their car was making a loud rattling noise. The mystified ladies apparently had not realized someone had put stones in the hub caps of the machine.

Weather conditions for the Easter period seemed very promising today. Last year's real hot spring weather started just about this time, the temperature getting into the 70's on April 23, and was climaxed by (Continued On Page Two)

U. S. Forces Move Steadily To Protect Pacific Supply Routes

ELLICE GROUP IN LATEST EXPANSION

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 23.—American forces today were tightening their grip on the Pacific supply lines by expanding their island bases which could be used for fresh thrusts against Japanese held outposts.

Best indication of the manner in which the United States has been plugging up loopholes in its supply defenses was the Navy's disclosure that American forces now occupy Funafuti Island in the Ellice group.

Importance of even such a small base was indicated by the fact that the Japanese bombed U. S. positions in the Ellice group, causing light casualties and minor damage.

Occupied Some Time Ago

Secretary of the Navy Knox said American forces occupied the island "some time ago", raising the possibility that similar outposts have been occupied but have been kept secret from the enemy.

Knox also said that Funafuti had the same value as other islands which held guard America's long and vital supply lines between Hawaii and Australia.

Moscow Reports Russian Planes Make Attack In East Prussia

(International News Service)
LONDON, April 24.—A Nazi raiding plane bombed a large town in the English west midlands shortly before midnight, the ministry of home security revealed today.

The extent of damage was not disclosed. London itself had a brief alert during the night, its 627th of the war when a single raid approached the capital. The enemy craft was driven off without incident by heavy anti-aircraft fire.

Soviets Planes Attack

Moscow meanwhile announced that 200 Soviet planes lashed at the German industrial city of Insterberg in East Prussia Thursday night in the heaviest Russian air assault to date on objectives in the Reich.

The attack lasted for two hours and the entire city was said to have been left in flames. One Soviet plane was reported lost.

The Russians said also that during the attack.

New York Women Debate Easter Costume

By JANE COCHRAN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 24.—Women turned an appraising eye skyward today and eagerly scanned the weather report as they debated their costume for the famed Fifth avenue Easter parade.

The question was whether cool breezes would demand a suit or whether a late April sun would make feminine prints topped by flower-bedecked hats, the order of the day.

New York stores, judging by a last minute rush on their blouse departments, predicted that suits will lead the Easter parade, even if the day is balmy. Two-piece or redingote type dresses were expected to share honors.

Soviet High Command Says Losses Have Halted Furious German Assaults

RUSSIAN AIRMEN SCORE SUCCESSES

By NATALIA RESE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, April 24.—The Soviet high command today announced the cessation of furious assaults against Red army positions in the west Caucasus by German forces bled white in a futile attempt to halt the Russian threat to the Black Sea naval base of Novorossiisk.

Pointing out that the Nazi army in the Kuban valley had sustained terrific losses over the past several days in unsuccessful attacks, the noon communique declared that the "mailed Hitlerite units refrained from carrying out active operations" during last night.

Thousands Of Dead

The toll of German dead was counted in the thousands and the Nazis lost scores of tanks and airplanes in the desperate counter-offensive to secure their Novorossiisk bridgehead.

In the 24 hours up to last midnight the Germans lost 1,900 men in dead alone. A single action yesterday cost the Nazis more than 500 killed and wounded, after which they were forced to retreat to their initial position.

Soviet forces burned or disabled 17 Nazi tanks and destroyed 36 German planes in air combats.

Bond Sales Now Total $3,610,574

Workers Prepare For Last Week Effort To Exceed Quota

If anyone has $1,639,425.75 in change on hand, and want to turn it in to the second war bond campaign, the drive in Lawrence county will be over. At noon today the quota of $5,250,000 lacked just that much of being met, which means that the total sales to date are $3,610,574.25. Of this total New Castle reported $271,283.50, Ellwood City $595,286.50, New Wilmington $83,288, Valant $67,331.25, Besemer $67,041.25, Wampum $46,343.75.

The totals reported today would be much higher if subscription forms for bonds sold had been turned into headquarters. John J. Maher, city chairman said. He estimates there have been nearly half a million dollars worth of bonds sold for which no subscription forms have been turned in.

In addition, there have been nearly 600 purchase orders signed for which the money has not been paid. If these subscribers would pay for their bonds, credit could be taken for them.

U. S. May Be Nearing Break With Finland

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The United States today is believed to be nearing a diplomatic break with Finland.

Withdrawal of all but two members of the American legation staff in Helsinki is considered the final step before a complete severance of relations.

The last two members of the staff now known to be left in Helsinki according to information available in Washington, are Robert M. McClintock, the charge d'affaires, and Lt. Col. Aage Woldike, the military attaché.

The American government is stiffening its attitude as a result of indications that Finland is giving in to German pressure for more active collaboration with the Axis, especially in the war against Russia.

Recent Developments

Recent developments which have led to the belief that German pressure on Finland is meeting with success include:

1. Definite indications that the Finnish government has lost freedom of action in its foreign policy.

2. Signs of increased Finnish military activity against the Russians.

An aerial dog-fight occurred a short time ago between Finnish and Russian planes over the gulf of Finland. The Finns claim to have shot down 21 Soviet planes with a loss of only three Finnish machines.

The Finns assert that the engagement was a defensive action on their part, resulting from Soviet raids on Finnish territory. The Russians, however, regard the action as an offensive operation.

This government has taken the position for more than a year now that continuance of diplomatic relations with Finland depended on that country refraining from any further offensive action against Russia.

Americans In Tunisia Make Five Mile Gain

Capture Vital Objectives And Surprise Nazis In Halting Counter Attacks

BRITISH CAPTURE TOWN OF GOUBELLAT

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, In North Africa, April 24.—American troops of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Second Army Corps took over the offensive in the northern sector of Tunisia today, capturing five strategic hills and scoring advances of several miles.

Among the objectives which fell to the Americans was Long Stop Hill, only 29 miles southwest of the capital city of Tunis.

This vital promontory has come to be known as the "Verdun" of Tunisia because of the terrific resistance offered by the Germans against countless previous attacks by forces of Lieut. Gen. Kenneth A. N. Anderson's British First Army.

Under cover of a terrific artillery barrage, the Americans gained approximately five miles over exceedingly difficult terrain.

British Take Goubellat

The Axis-held town of Goubellat, a highly fortified outpost, meanwhile was occupied by British troops who etched out new advances toward Tunis while over the entire theater Allied bombers and fighters carried out 1,500 sorties—a new record for the campaign.

Transportation Facilities Are Badly Taxed

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Into the teeth of an unprecedented war-made shortage of transportation facilities, an ever increasing tide of Easter travelers flowed into Philadelphia's railroad and bus terminals today.

Indications were that an all-time record will be set for Easter travel, especially on lines leading to seashore resorts. Incoming as well as outgoing carriers were jammed, and the railroads—their coaches crowded with troops on furlough—were offering standing room only to hundreds of patrons.

Both the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads issued a general order to all officials and employees that their passes would not be honored from Good Friday until Tuesday morning.

On the other hand, thousands of war workers will spend the second wartime Easter at their benches and machines, while other thousands will display their Easter finery close to home.

Britain Will Bomb Tokyo

Churchill Says British Planes Will Fly Side By Side With Yanks

(International News Service)
LONDON, April 24.—The promise of Britain that Royal Air Force planes will fly side by side with United States bombers in future raids on Tokyo was voiced today by Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

In a message to Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of U. S. Army Air Forces, Churchill said that he learned "with indignation" of the cold-blooded execution of American airmen dropped in Japan after Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's raid last April.

"This barbarous and unusual action," Churchill said, "reveals in peculiarly significant manner the fear of the Japanese in having munition factories and other military objectives in their homeland bombed."

"I cannot resist sending you this message to assure you the R. A. F. earnestly looks forward to the day when they will be able to fly side by side with their American comrades to attack Tokyo and other cities of Japan and strip this cruel, greedy nation of their power to molest the civilized world."

"We shall certainly claim for our airmen a full share of this task which, however long it takes, must be thoroughly done by the combined forces of both our peoples."

WARTIME EASTER BRINGS PROMISE OF VICTORY HERE

A welcome promise that victory and peace will follow war.

Altars banked with lilies and churches full of Easter music here tomorrow will have a meaning more grave and yet more glad.

Easter Bunny Carries On

Outside of the churches, where Easter belongs to the children and colored eggs and bunnies, and where the grown-ups make annual additions to their wardrobes, certain changes have been made also by the war. Lawrence County chicken coops will not send chicks to the dye-pot, but to the steaming pot instead. Local rabbits are finding their Easter spirit somewhat cramped by all the box traps in victory gardens.

Among the missing are the annual pictures in the paper of Mrs. Roosevelt in her new Easter outfit, since she announced she didn't need one this year. Easter eggs will not be rolled on the White House lawn, we are told, but will go to feed the men who keep production lines rolling. Jelly beans are scarce.

But no shortage of Easter spirit, spiritual or worldly, has been noted here, in spite of war worries and inconveniences. Even sunshine seems to have been taken off the rationed list. "Welcome, happy morning," age to age shall say.

AMERICANS IN TUNISIA MAKE FIVE MILE GAIN

Goubellat-Bou Arada area, the determined Allied thrust now has reached approximately to the center of Lake Sekret El Kouza, where an armored unit on the northern shore swung suddenly to the south and destroyed an entire Nazi motorized column.

Infantry units, equipped with weapons of all types, are bearing the brunt of the fighting along the Sedejenane-Mateur road.

French Harassing Axis

Below Bou Arada, the French are harassing the Axis and keeping them constantly off balance while along the southern front the hard-bitten veterans of the British Eighth Army are clinging firmly to their newly-won gains. Tommies under Gen. Sir Bernard Law Montgomery, who have chased the Afrika Korps all the way from El Alamein, today struck back in fury after each in the newest series of Nazi-Fascist counter-attacks. The British were aided in stemming all Axis thrusts because of their occupation of improved positions from which to meet the assaults.

Shrinking Axis Hold

Allied pressure now forcibly is shrinking the Axis-held northeastern corner of Tunisia. One of the hardest jobs rests on the shoulders of American troops who are faced with stiff mountain canyons along which are some of the Nazis' strongest defense points. Fighting north of the Mateur road now is regarded as the fiercest of the whole line.

It was indicated that the Germans after discovering that the Yanks were opposite them in the northern area made the mistake of considering them easy marks and immediately launched a series of counter-attacks with every man and gun they could spare. Their aim was to stun the Americans, drive them back and upset the Allied line. But they got the surprise of their lives when the Doughboys smashed into the Nazis, hurled them back and successfully established five hill salients from which they now are shattering every counterthrust.

Yanks Hold Firm

The Germans, after losing five hills north of the Mateur road, laid down a terrific artillery barrage and staged repeated counter-attacks but the now battle-seasoned Yanks refused to yield an inch of their five-mile gain.

These troops now are engaged in violent fighting in the hills. Particularly difficult engagements were reported underway at a spot 15 miles west of Mateur.

It is said freely here that the Yanks have proved their mettle beyond doubt and that the lessons they learned in South-Central Tunisia have been taken to heart. They have given the Nazis, it is felt, a highly unpleasant surprise.

British troops also gave the enemy another shove by seizing the fortified town of Goubellat midway between Medjez El-Bab and Bou Arada as the First Army under Lieut.-Gen. Kenneth A. N. Anderson scored a "considerable advance" along the entire line leading to Tunis.

Heavy Aerial Action

The steady British ground attack, supported by American drives farther north, was accompanied by aerial operations on an unprecedented scale.

With little enemy opposition encountered in the air, Allied bomber and fighter planes carried out 1,500 separate sorties, setting a record for the entire campaign. The tonnage of bombs dropped was believed the largest during daylight hours since the war started in this area.

British capture of Goubellat means clearance of Axis troops from the entire valley area. British armor immediately thrust out toward the east to follow up this striking gain.

Dawn to dusk attacks were carried out by Allied aircraft against enemy mountain strong-points, airfields, and troop concentrations.

Planes In Constant Action

There was scarcely a moment during the hours of daylight when Allied formations were not over the main enemy fighter and bomber airfields scattered throughout northern Tunisia.

As an example, during the late afternoon there were four separate Allied bomber formations in the skies at the same time, each strongly escorted. All four reached their targets in the space of 20 minutes.

Royal Air Force fighters in the northern sector alone flew several hundred sorties. P-40 fighters, bombers smashed up a group of enemy trucks east of Thibica and other concentrations north and south of Moghrane.

Targets north of Tunisia also were attacked, with particular emphasis upon Arbatax harbor on the east coast of Sardinia, which was raided for the first time. Italian flying boats riding at anchor were among the targets destroyed.

active over the Kuban front, centering their attacks on German-held airbases where numerous fires and violent explosions were started.

Russian Air Attacks

Russian aircraft smashed repeated blows at another unidentified German airbase southwest of Voroshilovgrad. In the first assault they destroyed 20 grounded planes. Fires were started in subsequent assaults. A column of trucks was wiped out when aircraft raided a station to the rear of the German lines.

Eight German blockhouses were destroyed on the central front west of Moscow and two mortar batteries were silenced as Russian troops consolidated their positions. On one sector 100 Germans were killed and the rest of the force engaged was dispersed.

A company of Nazi troops was slain when Russian forces broke into German trench positions south of Balaklava, below Kharkov on the Donets front.

On the northwestern front, the high command reported the rout of one German column.

Guerrilla forces operating in the Ukraine smashed their way into one German occupied town and crushed the Nazi garrison in violent street fighting in which more than 400 Germans were killed. The victims included one general and many other officers of lower rank.

Announcement was made of the sinking of an Axis transport by Soviet warships in the Barents Sea.

a record high mark of 90 degrees on April 27.

With indications for good weather, there is a forecast for record attendance at churches of the city and district on Easter Sunday. Inspiring programs of special music and other features have been arranged for all churches of the district tomorrow.

Some evidence of the backward season is reflected in the fact that with Easter coming at the latest date of many years, trees have not as yet developed, many leaves, and few flowers are blooming as yet even the earliest varieties being behind schedule.

Large crowds on the street and in the stores indicated pre-Easter business of large proportions in New Castle stores today. While some of the usual Easter goods were missing, stores seemed to have sufficient stocks to meet most of the demands of customers.

New Castle street department is apparently confident that we have had the last of the freezing, icy weather. Streets are being cleared of the winter's accumulation of ashes used in keeping the streets in safe condition during the treacherous winter weather.

Many of the smaller clubs find themselves unable to set a date for their next meetings due to interference of spring housecleaning. Window polishing, floor scrubbing, rug beating, blanket washing and wall-paper cleaning are going to get a lot of attention during the next few weeks.

wall and the south and southwest Pacific.

At one time it was feared that the Japanese were moving into the Ellice group in a careful and wily invasion to cut the U. S. supply lines to Australia. Apparently they never completed this move because the U. S. landing was made without opposition.

However, the Ellice Islands with American forces in them serve as a barrier above the important Fijis against a possible Jap move south-eastward from Nauru Island or southward from the Gilberts.

Highly Important Outpost

Such island outposts expand America's reconnaissance sphere, which is highly important in keeping track of Japanese task force movements. P. B. Y. flying boats could operate from lagoons in the Ellice group for this purpose.

Recent dispatches from advanced bases in the Aleutians also indicate that the United States has been expanding its string of bases and airfields in the north Pacific to get closer to Jap-held Kiska.

Ever since the complete victory of American forces on Guadalcanal, the Japanese have shown little inclination to expand their holdings—for the present—and have been concentrating on reinforcing present positions.

PA NEW OBSERVES

a record high mark of 90 degrees on April 27.

With indications for good weather, there is a forecast for record attendance at churches of the city and district on Easter Sunday. Inspiring programs of special music and other features have been arranged for all churches of the district tomorrow.

Some evidence of the backward season is reflected in the fact that with Easter coming at the latest date of many years, trees have not as yet developed, many leaves, and few flowers are blooming as yet even the earliest varieties being behind schedule.

Large crowds on the street and in the stores indicated pre-Easter business of large proportions in New Castle stores today. While some of the usual Easter goods were missing, stores seemed to have sufficient stocks to meet most of the demands of customers.

New Castle street department is apparently confident that we have had the last of the freezing, icy weather. Streets are being cleared of the winter's accumulation of ashes used in keeping the streets in safe condition during the treacherous winter weather.

Many of the smaller clubs find themselves unable to set a date for their next meetings due to interference of spring housecleaning. Window polishing, floor scrubbing, rug beating, blanket washing and wall-paper cleaning are going to get a lot of attention during the next few weeks.

AUTHORITY OF W. L. B. DEFIED BY HEAD OF MINERS

to pave the way for the use of army troops to take over the mines. It was recalled that in the case of the General Cable Co. in New Jersey, the union involved refused to appear before the board, and army troops were called out to break the strike.

The fifth floor corridor in the Labor Department building where the WLB has its hearing room was crowded with photographers, reporters and the curious long before the appointed hour of the hearing on the case of Lewis versus the coal operators.

Stage Set for Strike

The UMW chieftain, who already has set the stage for a nationwide coal strike next week in further defiance of the WLB and the White House, frequently has called the War Labor Board "a packed court."

The board met as sporadic strikes began to break out in the coal fields in a prelude to what may be a general walkout in all soft coal mines May 1.

Meanwhile, before President Roosevelt was a full WLB report on the strike at the Celanese corporation's Newark plant involving a jurisdictional dispute by Lewis' union. The President is expected to ask the strikers to return to work and failing that he presumably will direct the army to take over the plant.

Lewis, knowing full well that a wartime strike in the coal fields may send thousands of army troops into action, kept the board on tenter-hooks until the last minute. The mine union "boss" who has branded the WLB a "packed court," did not give any indication in advance whether he would obey or ignore a board edict to attend the hearing.

Even then, Lewis, through skilful maneuvering, shifted the spotlight from the WLB meeting to a New York conference he himself will conduct next Tuesday.

The UMW president issued a call for a special meeting of the union's policy committee of 200 rank-and-file members. There was no doubt but what the hard-fisted Lewis would walk out of the conference with a complete vote of confidence and the power to call a strike on May 1, if necessary, to enforce the miners' demand for a $2-a-day wage increase or its equivalent.

When Lewis refused to attend the session of the War Labor Board today, its members conferred for 41 minutes with representatives of

Easter Visitors Jam New York

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 24.—Despite the O.D.T. ban on non-essential travel, New York was jammed today with Easter visitors and more were arriving every hour.

With hotel rooms at a premium, rail bus and airline terminals were crowded to overflowing as the nation's largest city prepared for what may turn out to be the greatest Easter crowd in history. Churches which had tremendous Good Friday crowds, anticipated similar throngs tomorrow.

The Pennsylvania railroad meanwhile, ran full trains from Washington and other points and uniforms of the nation's armed forces predominated at Penn station. Service clubs worked all night trying to find room for the men to sleep.

Your Milk Was Fresh When You Got It Today

But you say—of course it was — it always is! And you're right. The milk on your doorstep each morning is fresh, and pure, ready for your youngsters' breakfast. Never a thought do you have otherwise. How did it get from the dairy farm, through the milk plant's pasteurization plant so promptly? By motor trucks of course.

Long before you were awake, the farmer had his milk loaded onto a motor truck and rushed into the plant. There it was treated skillfully and scientifically, bottled and loaded on to other motor trucks, for delivery to you. Or perhaps it was bottled at the dairy farm and loaded on to motor trucks and rushed to the city for you.

Your morning milk is just one more example of the importance of motor truck transportation in your daily life. Without motor trucks your milk would be hours late. Your morning milk emphasizes the importance of the line "Ship By Truck".

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

HELPING CHILD IN ARITHMETIC

Long before your child may have homework assignments from school you can help him cultivate good habits in rote learning.

Yes, in order to get along best at school the child in the elementary grades must acquire good habits of memorizing by rote.

For example, he will need to memorize the simple basic addition and subtraction facts, as 8 and 5 are 13, 4 from 11 leaves 7. There are only 100 basic addition facts and 100 basic subtraction facts.

As soon as your child begins addition at school you can help him at home by having him learn these basic addition facts there. Have him attack only two or three an evening. A good way to make small cards with one fact to a card. To illustrate, put on one side of this card 7 with 6 under it. Line beneath the 6 and 13 under this line. Have the child, as he looks carefully at this whole fact, say over and over, "7 and 6 are 13," till he knows it. Then he can turn the card and try himself out on the testing side of the card, which has 6 under 7 with the 13 omitted.

Urged him not to try himself out on the testing side till he is sure he knows the entire number fact.

Before he attacks a new group of two or three cards, he should review all the old ones he has learned on the previous evening.

Having mastered perfectly the 100 addition facts, he should proceed in like fashion with the subtraction facts.

You may have sheets which give these basic addition and subtraction facts by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

The World and the Mud Puddles

SOME OBSERVATIONS

The citizens of this nation still have their imaginations and they cannot refrain from making a joke out of events quite serious. The potato shortage has grown to such an extent that for days at a time there will be found no potatoes on the market whatsoever. Just why this is has not been explained.

A grocerman having a very extensive business and a very beautiful store in the West obtained some potatoes the other day and among the potatoes was a small one. He procured a vase, placed the potato therein and set it in a very conspicuous place in the entrance to his store. At the base of the vase was a neatly printed card which read as follows:

"The article in the vase is an article of food widely used in days gone by. It is rare specimen and bids will be received by the cashier as it is for sale."

Before World War No. I, I was in the office of the late Samuel Dana and among other things Mr. Dana discussed the price of whiskey. He said:

"When I was a young man, I could buy a gallon of corn or rye whiskey for One Dollar and in smaller quantities at a proportionate price. As I remember it, at that time it cost the distillers about eight cents a quart to manufacture whiskey and whiskey could be procured at any grocery shop for the price named. At that time the National Government and the Government of the State of Pennsylvania had not learned the gentle art of taxation. There was some effort made by our governments to keep the expense of government down and now look at the thing. You are charged nowadays One Dollar and a Quarter for reasonable good whiskey. I wonder what comment Mr. Dana would make now upon the price of whiskey today."

I was interested in looking at the prices of liquors in a big grocery store the other day. I found that good Kentucky whiskey was quoted at Four Dollars and Fifty Cents a bottle in not even a quart. It is only one-fifth of a gallon, as they bottle liquor now-a-days. Scotch whiskey was quoted at Six Dollars a bottle. When I was a young man, it was possible to buy a quart of imported champagne for Four Dollars a quart.

If there is anything now days to impress the observer concerning inflation, the price of alcoholic liquors would certainly give the impression that there is already considerable inflation. And now the government in Washington is seriously considering rationing liquors. Talk about bootlegging and black markets—what do you suppose would happen if they ration liquor?

Post-War Guarantees Are Tough Problem
Experts Do Not Agree On Stabilization
Morgenthau And Lord Keynes At Variance

By CHARLES F. STEWART

Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, April 24.—How to guarantee stabilization is one of the most difficult problems to be solved, as insurance against a badly gummed-up state of international economics in post-war days.

It is a subject for experts to discuss. Ordinary folk haven't the remotest understanding of it. Well, why don't they get the experts to explain it to them? And that is as mean a puzzle to tackle as the other one. The experts' trouble is that they don't understand it, either. Some of them pretend to, but they disagree among themselves to such an extent that their discussions don't mean anything.

The two outstanding sharks at the argument are Treasury Secretary Morgenthau and Lord Keynes, the British treasury's chief counselor. The North and South Poles are no further apart geographically than that are post-war stabilization. They are poles apart about it, but that is ALL they are.

Of course, the ignorant, unscientific theory is that stabilization consists of getting a balance into the keel of a boat or a plane, so that it will float right side up or get back to "stability" after winds and waves have flung it.

This stuff, though, is international currency stabilization—keeping two or more countries' respective kinds of different money on a balance, so that one of them won't sky-rocket while the other is slumping. If that happens, it is as if you go into a store to place an order of groceries—and the grocer won't recognize your dough except at a heavy discount and you won't recognize his prices.

Now, basically, countries swap goods with one another.

If they are different kinds of stuff—goods that we want and do not have—why, it is a simple enough transaction.

The trouble is that such deals are not so straight-away.

War Bonds And The Future

WASHINGTON, April 24.—IT IS not often these days that one finds an optimistic financier. Most, by our leading men of finance estimate the fantastic height of the national debt at the close of the war, look at the appalling taxation muddle in Congress, consider the staggering cost and size of the Government shudder at the political link between the radical labor elements and the Administration—and regard the future with apprehension.

THERE IS much to justify their feeling. Nevertheless it is refreshing to hear from a man deep in the heart of Wall Street who thinks that our system of individual enterprise will be revitalized after the victory rather than destroyed, and that the disasters which so many forecast will not materialize. Such a man is Mr. Emil Schram, president of the New York Stock Exchange, who presented his views a few days ago in a speech inaugurating the new thirteen-billion Treasury War Bond drive. It is interesting to note the grounds upon which Mr. Schram bases his belief.

FIRST, HE believes that after the war there will be a great unsatisfied demand for all the grosser comforts of life of which people in America and elsewhere have been deprived by the exigencies of war, not to mention and save a reason. This he thinks automatically will end that political fetish, an economy of scarcity, which made failure to produce a subsidized virtue and will substitute a sound economy of abundance which makes production a virtue and usefulness a sin. Stimulating as is Mr. Schram's view of the future, it is worth pointing out that the assumptions upon which it is based are things for which he hopes rather than things which exist. One of these, of course, is a frank recognition of the fact that profits supply the momentum of our way of life. Another is a program of scientific taxation applied on an equitable basis which would enable business, large and small, to retain sufficient earnings to pay a reasonable return on capital invested and to build up sufficient reserves for post-war reconstruction.

A FURTHER assumption of Mr. Schram's is that by the time the war is over practically every family in America will own Government securities and thus have a personal stake in the stability of the Government and the sanctity of the national debt. Such ownership, Mr. Schram contends, means a public sentiment that will deter a demagogue from attempting to liquidate (Continued On Page Seven.)

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

International News Service Staff Writer
After what the Japs did to our fliers it's going to be difficult to keep our minds on the strategy of knocking Germany out of the war first.

There may not be much choice between the ruthlessness of the Nazis and the Japs but at the moment the dirty little Nips are leading our hate parade.

If we didn't have anything to steam up our interest in the war in the Pacific this is it.

And now that we've got it, what are we going to do about it?

All the indignant speeches of officialdom put together won't disturb the complacency of the scurvy little bandits of Tokyo.

But waves of bombers will.

And that's not an original thought—every fighting man in the Pacific has been looking for the arrival of more bombers since before the Philippines fell.

Thought for the day: Put up or shiv up—that's the way wars are fought.

Looking At Life

By ERIC BRANDIE

Columns and columns are being written about it.

The wisest men in the allied countries are thinking about it, talking about it, holding meetings, debating, planning, envisioning. How to have a permanent peace. How to put an end to wars.

That is the great problem and it seems to be extremely difficult to find the answer.

Well, gentlemen, I'll save on time and money. I'll save you traveling expenses, teams of paper, gallons of ink.

For I, no expert in economics, politics, statesmanship, psychology or black magic, I, a simple-minded newspaperman, I have the answer.

And that answer has been there ever since the twelfth chapter of the Book of Exodus in the Old Testament was written.

For in that chapter are contained the ten commandments. If we will live up to them there can never be another war.

Each war so far conducted has been caused by the breach of one or more of the ten commandments.

Hitler created strange Gois and took the name of the Lord in vain.

He killed. He bore false witness against his neighbor.

He coveted his neighbor's house, his servant, his ox, his ass and everything that was his.

He showed no mercy, he stole, he honored neither father nor mother.

And now that he and his accomplices have violated the commandments, there will be eye for eye, tooth for tooth, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.

Don't you see how easy it is? Why go all the trouble of finding a way, when the way is so clear, the road so well marked, the whole thing written out—for centuries ready for use?

That's my plan, a plan I learned from my father and mother who had it handed down to them generation by generation.

That's all you need to do, you learned statesmen and scientists. Utopia is here—Exodus, Chapter 20.

Three Schools Again Leaders

Weekly Report Is Made Of Salvage Can Collection In City-Country

Repeating the record of a week ago, Thaddeus Stevens, St. Michael's and New Wilmington schools were winners again this week in the tin can collection campaign which is conducted by the school children of the city and county. Thaddeus Stevens won the pennant for city schools of over 300 enrollment, turning in a 100 per cent record, a total of 5578 cans, an average of 19 per pupil. For the under 300 enrollment schools, St. Michael's turned in a 100 per cent record, a total of 2384 cans, an average of 26 per pupil. In the county schools, New Wilmington turned in a 100 per cent record, with 6434 cans, an average of 43 per pupil.

The individual winners were Shirley Watter, aged 11, grade 6-2, Thaddeus Stevens school, with 668 cans; Joseph Brinko, age 12, of grade 6, St. Michael's school, with 701 cans, and Donnie Gillespie of the New Wilmington school, with 614 cans. The winners will be interviewed Tuesday night, April 27, over station WKST by Salvage Chairman Ross D. Rosenberger.

Total of 63,276
A total of 63,276 cans were collected for the county during the week which, considering the fact that schools were dismissed on Tuesday afternoon, is a fine record. The totals of the schools follow:

Eight Youths Are Held In Gas Thefts

State Motor Police Make Arrests For Gasoline Thefts In This District

State motor police believe they have cleaned up the cause of continued gasoline thefts in the county in the past month with the arrest of eight young men ranging in age from 15 to 21 years of age. Five of the eight are in the county jail and three are in the juvenile detention home. They will be given a hearing before Alderman James C. Brice this afternoon.

The five in the county jail are Robert Stafford, David Abernathy, Ruddy Herman, Benjamin Perrotta and George Speer. Three in the juvenile detention home are William Phillips, Julius Johnson and Everett McGuire.

Included in the gasoline thefts are two stolen automobiles, the police say. From statements made by the police it appears that cars have been taken, driven out to isolated spots and the gasoline drained out of them.

The motor police have been working on the case for several weeks, and on Friday afternoon, April 23, rounded up the eight young men, charging them with larceny.

Community Rose Garden In City Park Laid Out

Lawrence County Garden Club Ready To Put In Center Planting Of White Roses

With plans calling for the planting of 15,000 rose bushes by the time the garden is completed, the Community Rose Garden in the city park facing Jameson Memorial hospital is laid out and ready to start the center planting of four beds of white roses this week.

Contributions of money and ever-blooming hybrid tea rose bushes are coming in daily for the project. Mrs. R. W. Lamoree, president of the Lawrence County Garden club, sponsoring organization, said today.

Ladies of the Lions, the V. F. W. auxiliary, the Harbor Garden club and the Harlansburg Garden club, as well as a number of individuals, are among the recent participants in the rose garden project.

Previous contributors included the United Engineering and Foundry Company, the Conservation-Garden department of the Woman's club and the Junior Commandos.

As the garden is being planted in honor of all men and women in the service of the United States from Lawrence county, those who give rose bushes or undertake to plant a bed can send in the name of the person, or persons, for whom they are giving it, for an honor roll later.

Because of the late spring, the work of planting will continue through May, since due to the cold weather hybrid tea roses can be planted until the first of June.

Anyone interested in the project is asked to get in touch with the committee: Mrs. R. W. Lamoree, 4360; Mrs. William Berkstresser, 6412-J; Mrs. Otto Pearsall, 694-M; or Mrs. W. Russell Allen, 372.

JAP MERCHANT VESSEL IS HIT

three destroyers, was caught off Kasey, New Ireland, by a United States B-24 Liberator bomber.

Southbound at the time of the assault, the 8,000-ton merchantman was hit directly amidships by one 500-pound bomb. A damaging near miss also was scored by the Liberator.

The vessel burst into flames with smoke rising to 3,000 feet and was left in a sinking condition, the communiqué from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said.

Allied long-range fighter planes made 18 low-level passes over the Salamaua area and the track to Komiatum to strafe Japanese positions. The near-by peninsula was hit in a night attack by a medium bomber.

New Guinea Attacks

Lae, Pischhafen and Saldor in New Guinea also came in for attacks by Gen. MacArthur's fliers.

In a pre-dawn attack medium bombers strafed and bombed the harbor area of Lae to the north of Salamaua. The town and air-drome at the port of Pischhafen was bombed by heavy units, while Jap-held villages in the Saldor area were blasted by a single allied heavy bomber.

Islands in the Arafura sea again were targets of allied medium units. Total in the Kei Islands suffered one assault, while the town of Dore in the Aru Islands also was hit.

Ubili on New Britain island was attacked by a heavy bomber which strafed the village.

Easter holidays for Robert Eakin, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. Earl Eakin of 423 Court street, and for Jack Butz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Butz of Lincoln avenue, have been cancelled due to well-guarded seclusion, plus the exclusion of the press, so far as any statement was concerned.

Sources close to Lewis indicated, however, that there would be no comment on President Roosevelt's order that striking members of the U.M.W.A. return to work at the Newark, N. J. plant of the Celanese Corporation of America. These sources held that District 50 of the U.M.W.A. is a completely autonomous unit and that it is up to this union division itself to decide what course of action it will follow.

Efforts to obtain comment on Lewis double-edged quarrel with the war labor board and bituminous coal operators likewise were stymied, despite the WLB's order that mining operations continue "uninterrupted" pending settlement of the dispute.

LEWIS REMAINS OUT OF TOUCH

NEW YORK, April 24.—Reporters besieging the outer offices of John L. Lewis in a New York hotel today found themselves unable to reach the mine-union leader for comment on his latest embroglio with the United States Government.

Lewis apparently had decided on a policy of well-guarded seclusion, plus the exclusion of the press, so far as any statement was concerned.

Sources close to Lewis indicated, however, that there would be no comment on President Roosevelt's order that striking members of the U.M.W.A. return to work at the Newark, N. ## PRESIDENT ORDERS STRIKE TO BE ENDED

isidential dispute between the UMW and the CIO over which should act as bargaining agent for employees at the Celanese plant.

Will Protect U. S. Interests
The president, in his message to Lewis and the UMW officials, said that unless the workers returned to their jobs by 12:00 noon Monday "the government will take steps to protect the interests of the nation at war and legal rights and property of the company involved and the rights of patriotic workers who desire to work in the plant under existing contractual relations."

Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early made the announcement of the president's action to reporters at the White House.

"Acting on the unanimous recommendation of the War Labor Board," Early said, "the president has sent telegrams through the White House this morning to John L. Lewis and four other officials of the United Mine Workers union.

Picketing Must Cease
"He has ordered, as commander in chief of the army and navy, all picketing to cease, and all employees of the Celanese Corp. at Newark, N. J., now out on strike, to return to work at once.

"The president told Lewis and the other officials of the United Mine Workers union that the strike is a clear violation of labor's non-strike pledge.

"The president said that if the UMW did not comply with the request by 12:00 noon Monday, the government will take steps to protect the interests of the nation at war, the legal rights and property of the company involved, and the rights of patriotic workers who desire to work in the plant under existing contractual relations.

"Lewis and his four assistants were requested to notify all members of the union accordingly."

Four-Month Effort Of Church To Increase Attendance, Reduce Debt, Closes

Object of this effort was to secure highest possible attendance on the part of the congregation for the four months involved and to bring the indebtedness of the church to a new low. Considerable success has attended the effort inasmuch as congregations have been maintained well above the average, and in the matter of debt reduction considerable progress has been made. It is expected that Easter will see still further progress made in these directions.

Upwards of 45 new members will be received into the church over the week-end. Record attendances for the period are anticipated and with the Easter offering for the building fund added to what has already been received the indications are that the peak of achievement and success attained will be most creditable.

Chicago Judge Makes Christian Science Lecture

Judge S. W. Greene Speaks At Cathedral On "Simple Truth
Of God And Man"

Judge Samuel W. Greene, C. S. B., of Chicago, Ill., spoke on "Christian Science: The Simple Truth About God and Man," on Friday night at the Cathedral. The message, brought by Judge Greene, who is a member of the board of lecture-ship of the mother church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., was one of great interest to those in attendance.

The lecturer called attention to the vague and confused views that are entertained by many people concerning God; and he spoke of the importance of a clear and understandable knowledge of God such as is taught in Christian Science.

The Discoverer and Founder.
He told how Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, labored to attain a true and provable concept of God and how that truth could be used practically. He said:

"Like the great Master, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science offers the world proof of the world proof of its truth and its power in the works that are done in Christian Science. First came her own healing through ad-hering to Jesus' practical teaching in the acknowledgment of God's presence and power; then helping and inspiring others to a like adherence and acknowledgment, she found them healed. Thus began, simple and little heralded, the Christian Science movement, which, by the force of its astounding success through the decades, has spread itself effectively throughout the Christian world."

Mrs. Eddy will undoubtedly go down in history as having re-established in the practice of spiritual healing in the church, and as an essential accompaniment of religious activity, such as it was in the church of the early Christian era."

God.
The lecturer spoke at length about how Christian Science is helping men and women to a correct knowledge of God. He said:

"When the reader is first made acquainted with the use of seven synonyms for God—Love, Life, Truth, Soul, Mind, Spirit, Principle—it may be startling to his accustomed manner of thought, and he may have to do considerable thinking or reading in the Bible to be able to be reconciled to this forcible statement of what God is. The average student of the Bible, however, will have little or no difficulty upon reflection to adjust his thinking to this modern statement of what God is in the use of the seven synonyms. This scientific interpretation of God clothes Deity at once with all possible good, with all possible intelligence, with all possible life, with all possible perfection, and leads to the adoption of three further terms to describe Deity, omnipotent, omniscient, omnipresent."

Evil Accounted For.
Then it was said that sin, sickness, sufferings and death could not be the work of God.

"The dark pictures of sickness, sin, sufferings, accidents, failure, death, will fall in the universal realization of God's intelligent and perfect work. Mankind will then have taken a long step toward the attainment of health and holiness through the logical deduction stated in the Christian Science textbook (p. 468): 'All is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation, for God is All-in-all.' The fact of God's omnipresence held by human beings will largely lift them out of the realm of fear and uncertainty, for one could scarcely contemplate mishap or misfortune in the presence of Deity. When men more generally come to see in the light of Christian Science, that God is divine Principle, it will greatly reduce in mankind that too common fault of self-depreciation, or inferiority complex, as man's likeness to God would then bring him into the realm of orderliness and perfection."

or semi-tropical raw material that we require and we have industrial goods that they are anxious for.

We generally get along with them pretty well on that basis. Argentina is an exception. That republic really is in competition with us. With the rest of them we are on a swap-even basis. But it is on a conspicuously unharmonious basis that we and the Argentines maintain our mutual relationship. The Argentine will have to get in line ultimately, but it will be reluctant. If it could get away with it, it might be pro-Axis—but for commercial reasons.

Look at them! The Latin Americas can make much more money out of us, and the rest of the world, than otherwise. In the long run Argentina will profit by acquiescing in the inevitable.

It doesn't so much matter as to a little country like the Argentine. Europe's small nations will be satisfied with what they can get out of the post-war settlement.

The situation for the great powers is not so easily solved. How are monies going to be swapped? Is it to be done between the United States and Britain alone? Well, then, how are they to be fixed between us and the others? It reaches international proportions. There is where we get to international economies.

SANDWICH FILLER

Sandwich filler and meat loaf and other meat combinations are very popular for lunches.

Such things may be dangerous at a large supper, banquet or picnic. When "Mom" fixes them for "Dad's" lunch, there is no danger.

Disease germs, or bacteria, which cause trouble in sandwich filler or salad, come from people. A person who harbors disease bacteria mixes up a sandwich filler. The germ gets into it. It is a good place for them to multiply. In a few hours it is poison.

"Mom" has been feeding "Dad" for a long time. She probably harbors no dangerous bacteria. "Dad" would have found out long ago.

seem to mean that both Senator Byrd and Mr. Schram believe that the future of the nation depends upon a change of administration. No other conclusion makes sense, though, naturally. Mr. Schram could not point this out in a speech supporting the Administration's offering of thirteen billions of war bonds.

IN SUPPORTING this drive, every sensible citizen, no matter how anti-fourth term he may be, will unite to the limit of his ability. First, because every man, woman and child among us is vitally concerned with winning the war as quickly as possible, and it cannot be won unless the money is provided without stint; second, because the great hope for a return to clear governmental thinking and sound principles lies in giving the great masses of the people a personal reason for insisting upon these things. No better way of doing this can be conceived than by multiplying the number who own Government securities. With the success of the last loan, there were 23,000,000 of these. When this one goes over, there should be 40,000,000. If that number of Government security holders does not turn Mr. Schram's assumptions into realities, then there is slight hope for us.

DIES IN YOUNGSTOWN

Mrs. Stewart McConahy, 84, of Youngstown, a native of New Castle, died Friday morning in South Side hospital. She was the former Harriet White, daughter of the late Thomas and Sarah White. Her funeral will be Monday afternoon in Youngstown.

"The Roosevelts seldom use the state dining room now," News story. Well, it's right cozy to eat in the kitchen when there's no company.

IN OTHER words, Mr. Schram is convinced that if sound governmental policies are substituted for unsound ones and the people are sufficiently stirred and informed to reject the demagogic schemes already developing that our vast post-war problems can be solved and the financial structure of the Government stand steady under the terrific strain to which it will be subjected. Of course, he is right, and this is exactly what anti-New Deal Democrats such as Senator Byrd, of Virginia, have been fighting for since, in the first Roosevelt term, the great spending philosophy was adopted and the bureaucratic build-up begun.

NONE of the things for which Senator Byrd has been fighting, and which Mr. Schram lays down as essential for post-war prosperity and security—to wit, a friendly attitude toward business, equitable and scientific taxation, and the elimination of governmental waste and incompetency—exists under the present Administration. This would

Enough Scrap For Cruiser Is Being Sought

About 3,750 Tons Of Scrap Desired In Collection In County Next Week

There isn't enough water in the Neshamock Creek to float a light cruiser, but if Lawrence County gets in its share of scrap in the scrap collection planned for May 1st there will be enough scrap on the banks of the Neshamock to produce a light cruiser. That's what the government asks of us this time, enough scrap to build a light cruiser, which means about 3,750 tons.

Further details of the plan for getting in the scrap were announced today by Salvage Chairman Ross D. Rosenberger and Collection Chairman Numa P. Vidal. They call for the collection of scrap in the City of New Castle (except business houses) on May 1, and from the business houses on May 3. In the rural districts and towns the collection will be made on April 29-30 and May 1.

Distribute Pledges
Beginning Tuesday of next week the school children of the county will distribute pledge cards to householders which they are asked to sign and hand back to the school children as an evidence of their participation in the campaign.

Householders in the city are asked to have their steel, bronze, rubber, zinc and copper scrap on the curb before eight o'clock in the morning on May 1. Trucks will pick it up during the day.

In the rural districts pools will be established as they were before and the scrap from the townships will be piled at the pool site.

There is a little scrap around every home and we're talking of steel, rubber and the other kinds of scrap of domestic squabbles. The mills need the scrap and the Navy needs the light cruiser.

The more scrap we get in the quicker we'll get out. Anything you are not using in the immediate future should be classed as scrap.

NOTED FUGITIVE IS RECAPTURED

(International News Service)
SAVANNAH, Ga., April 24.—With Forrest Turner, notorious Georgia escape artist in custody, state and local police were believed closing in today on two men, believed to be convicts Leland Harvey and D. C. Black.

The pair fled from an automobile last night after its tires had been punctured by a shot from a policeman's revolver. Turner, taken into custody before he could flee, readily admitted his identity.

Turner, Harvey and Black were named by Georgia prison authorities as leaders of the mass break from J. Edgar Hoover's prison last week, during which 25 convicts made their bid for freedom. Nineteen other escaped prisoners have been arrested by officers since the break.

An investigation led to the revelation by the State Senate Prison Committee of gambling, "regular intimacies between men prisoners and those in the women's section," operation of illegal honor stills, and sale of whisky and narcotics to inmates until recently when Warden H. R. Duval replaced Roland Lawrence as head of the institution.

VICTORY GARDEN NOTES (By LEWIS C. DAYTON) (County Farm Agent)

CONTROL WEEDS TO PREVENT DISEASES
Many of the most destructive vegetable diseases are spread from weeds to vegetables. It naturally follows that weed control is a good practice for disease prevention.

The destructive plant diseases which are caused by viruses, live over winter on catnip, poke berry, horse nettle, ground cherry, milkweed, and the wild bur cucumber, and are spread from these plants to tomatoes, peppers, and cucumbers by insects. If any of these weeds are growing near the garden they should be eliminated early in the spring, and the vicinity should be inspected thereafter to see that no new weeds of this type are growing.

Flashing lights, accompanied by sound effects on a 10 by 15-foot panel, show the work by civilian defense workers from the time the first spotter hears the sound of the approaching enemy planes until the last bit of damage has been taken care of by emergency squads.

Colgate Resumes Naval Air Training

HAMILTON, N. Y.—Flight training for Navy cadets, interrupted when a $160,000 fire destroyed the main hangar, 21 planes and all equipment except six parachutes last November, was resumed at the Colgate university airport recently with the arrival of 12 Navy cadets assigned to the field by the civil aeronautics authority.

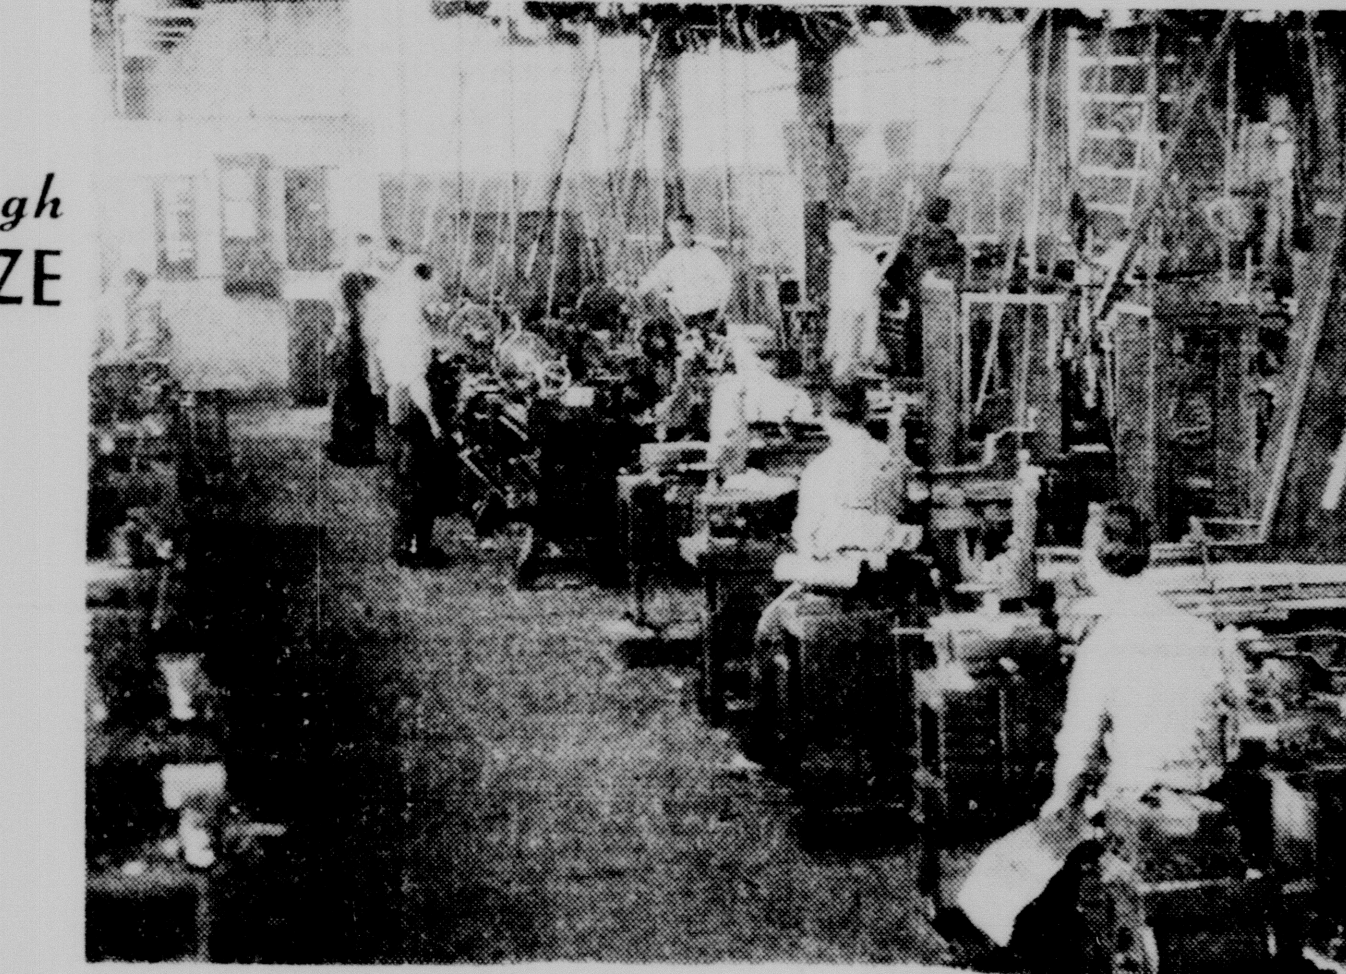

The planes will be housed in a hangar built in 1940 and now remodeled after being in the process of dismantling when the fire occurred.

Dr. Eugene G. Bewkes, director of the CAA war training service at Colgate, has received word that the institution's quota of trainees for primary flight training will be increased to 70 this week. It has been 40.

Two small fires. Firemen were called out twice Friday afternoon and evening for small fires.

Early in the afternoon they were summoned to Cunningham avenue, where a short circuit was found in a truck belonging to the Superior Baking Co.

At 7:05 p. m. they were called to the Hite service station, on North Jefferson street, where burning rubbish had set fire to some oil in cans. No damage resulted.

One Section of the Tool Room

The Tool Room

The manufacture of SLEEVE BEARINGS is a complicated and precise business. Very often, measurements . . . which we call tolerances . . . are held to 1-10,000 of an inch. Obviously, this calls for unusual skill . . . highly specialized machinery and equipment . . . unique production methods.

To provide this specialized machinery . . . the tools . . . jigs . . . fixtures . . . cutters . . . broaches . . . dies . . . Johnson Bronze maintains a completely equipped Tool Room.

Tool makers can be called "Sculptors of Metals." Few professions or trades require the same high degree of skill and ability necessary in the production of tools. If you could step inside this department, you could see what appears to be an ordinary piece of steel . . . round or square . . . drab in color . . . change into a gleaming exact piece of equipment. It takes patience . . . careful attention to detail . . . constant checking and rechecking. But it's right when it is finished.

Tool makers are not "found" . . . they have to be "made." The usual method is to select young men from our various shops . . . individuals who have shown some natural ability . . . who have a genuine liking for machinery and things mechanical. They are placed in the Tool Room as apprentices . . . and by careful training and supervision they learn a trade that is universally recognized as one of the most important in industry. This is another example of the working of a Johnson Bronze policy . . . "Promotion from Within."

United Nations Event Features Program Today

Notre Dame, NYU Track Stars Steal Show; Greg Rice In Two-Mile Grind

PAST RECORDS ARE UNTOUCHED

By AL FUNCH

FRANKLIN FIELD, Philadelphia, April 24.—An international flavor will be added to the picturesque University of Pennsylvania relay carnival today in the first running of the United Nations one-half mile relay championship.

On hand for the wartime competition will be naval units from the United States, Great Britain and the Fighting French. In the stands, rooting for their brothers-in-arms, will be delegations of each of the countries, dressed in their own colorful uniforms.

Rice to Run
Another feature attraction at the final session of the 49th annual relay is the invitation two-mile run, calling to the cinderpath that master of them all, barrel-chested Greg Rice, Notre Dame alumnus, now

MEAT RATIONING FAVORS FISHERMEN

BELLEfonte, Pa., April 24.—Meat rationing, believe it or not, will benefit fishermen this season. How?

Well—The 30-inch trout in Spring creek have feasted on hamsters—tossed in the water by tourists—for many years.

With meat rationing here, the practice is a thing of the past. So, since the stream's natural food supply isn't sufficient to care for the big fellows, the trout, officials believe, undoubtedly will wander out of the protected area—thus becoming legal prey for anglers.

If Semi's Can Produce, Majors' Worries Over

Close 80,000 Teams Will Begin Play Throughout Nation On May 2

PREXY RAY DUMONT EXPRESSES OPTIMISM

NEW YORK, April 24.—Major league baseball moguls have nothing to fear about future playing material—provided plans of National Semi-Pro Baseball congress materialize between now and May 2. Back in Wichita, Kan., peppery Ray Dumont is preparing for the official opening of the 1943 sandlot ball season, May 2, at which time an estimated 80,000 teams will start play.

Here's what's going to happen before the May 2 mass play takes place:

What They'll Do
(1) Distributing thousands of baseball guides and rule books to create an incentive for more sandlot teams to organize.

(2) Interesting 6,000 sporting goods dealers to organize leagues in the section into a National Association, with all players under a nation-wide contract system unable to change teams without release. A trophy will be presented each league winner by national organization as an added incentive.

(3) Organizing the nation's umpires, also the scorers, into a national association—so there won't be a shortage when the season starts.

Enlist Celebrities
(4) Enlisting the services of high government officials, former diamond greats, movie actors, governors and mayors among the estimated 40,000 celebrities who will be needed to appear at all the games in the May 2 mass play.

The material may not be as good as in former years, but there will be as many—if not more teams ready to play for the opening. Dumont states.

LANDIS UPHOLDS GEORGE FERRELL

Wins Plea For Free Agency; Ruling Countermands Previous Verdict

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 24.—Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, today has upheld George Ferrell of International League's Newark club, in his plea for a free agency.

Ferrell, player-manager of the Rocky Mount, N.C., team last season, contended that his salary was reduced in violation of his contract when it was assigned to Newark. When the Rocky Mount club disbanded the contract was taken over by Binghamton of the Eastern league and then assigned to Newark.

Landis' ruling countermanded a previous verdict by the executive committee of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

SPORT CAPSULES

V. I. AT CEILING

WEST POINT—So spacious is the Army's field house, where the Brooklyn Dodgers practice, that cadet gridirers have yet to punt a football high enough to touch the ceiling.

ARM TOLD HIM
CHICAGO—Teddy Lyons of the United States Marines, famed as a pitcher with the Chicago White Sox, says he knew when the Sox went into spring training because his good right arm sensed it.

SCORING SLUMP
CHICAGO—Despite the 373 points scored by the Chicago Bears and 300 by Green Bay, scoring slumped off slightly in the National Football league last fall.

HAS ONE HURLER
James Millin University, of Decatur, Ill., has just one pitcher, Virgil Wagner, and so has arranged its schedule accordingly—one game in midweek and one for the week end.

BACK ON TURF
In 1937 Tedious was a Vanderbilt entry in the Kentucky Derby. The son of Teddy and Duration raced last in 1938. Since then Tedious has spent four years at stud. Now he's back on the racetrack.

COLUMBIA ELECTS
Richard Shalak, of the class of '45, has been elected captain of the Columbia varsity fencing team, succeeding Herbert Hor, who was graduated the end of last semester.

HANK EDWARDS, Cleveland outfielder, is making his third attempt to stick with the Indians. Edwards comes up from Baltimore where he hit .266 in 137 games. He began playing pro baseball in 1939 with Mansfield. O. Edwards is a left-handed hitter, stands 6 feet tall and weighs 190 pounds. (International)

Out for Weeks

CLYDE MCCULLOUGH, the regular catcher of the Chicago Cubs, suffered a fracture of his left leg in the opening game of the season against the Pirates in Chicago and as a result will be out of action for six weeks. McCullough was hurt sliding into base. He was one of the two Cub holdouts this year, the other being Novikoff, still out. (International)

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

There have been few families in the United States who have sent as many as five members into the ring. One of the few is the Chip clan, George, Joe, Charlie, Bill (now deceased) and "Eddie" having swung gloves. How Paul escaped the pugilistic fever we don't know. The Leasures have had a trio perform inside the ropes and now come the Nulps of Pulaski with a triumvirate and for the first time that we know of they'll toss leather in the same ring the same night—April 28, in The Arena.

The ruralites are comin' to town to show some out-of-county glove slickers just who's who in Lawrence county pugdom. Verne is a 118-pounder and he's going to prize and punch with Nick McGlade, of Youngstown. Rayburn will tackle a rugged opponent, Eddie Kementz, of Uniontown, at 140, and Chuck, who has boxed here previously will do his fight against Eddie Timpon, Youngstown, at 135. If the card goes through there may be some black eyes in the Nulph family.

However, the Nulph trio, while willing and strong, doesn't carry all the fast fireworks. For instance what about the Chris Taber, vs. Clyde Jenkins 20, you ask. Well that fight should be the feature of the evening's event! At least it is so carded, 1, because Chris is the best of the 'middles' hereabouts and Clyde fought himself into the semi-finals of the National A. A. U. tourney, before succumbing to defeat in Boston recently.

Joe Ramey, Youngstown's most promising boxing prospect, Emil Cannell, the slick-haired kid from Mahoningtown, Buddy Harrison, right class bantam from Uniontown and Wilbur Thomas, also of Fayette county are among those destined to punch and send fandon into an excited state next Wednesday night when the city police hold a show to benefit their pension fund. According to reports the said show is so attractive that the Arena will be crowded. Patrolmen are toting tickets which also can be obtained at police headquarters.

Devil's Thumb Out Of Derby

Because of a cracked right front foot, Devil's Thumb, one of the top favorites for the Kentucky Derby, has been withdrawn from the Derby, Preakness and Wood Memorial.

The horse will be out of competition for at least two months.

GOOD IDEA
Mixed swimming periods on Sunday morning have increased attendance at the pool of the New London U. S. submarine base. Tests disclosed that 14 per cent of the enlisted personnel were non-swimmers.

FRANK KALIN, outfielder for the Chicago White Sox, comes up from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league where he hit .304 in 1942. Once the property of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Kalin began his pro career with Mt. Airy of the Bi-State league in 1938. Kalin is a right-handed batter and stands 6 feet tall. (International)

RUTH DOESN'T KNOW ANSWER

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 23.—The wool on the first shipment of baseballs may have made them dead—but Babe Ruth doesn't know anything about it.

Besides, snorted the Babe today: "I've had experience with dead balls before. I hit a dead ball for 27 home runs in my early days. The next year I almost doubled that record and immediately everyone started to say that it was a lively ball."

Foiled Remedy
"But it wasn't—it was the same ball. The only trouble was that everyone else was a choke hitter. I was swinging from the end of the bat. Know what happened next year? Everyone started to swing from the end of the bat and you should have seen that ball sail!"

The balls may or may not be dead to the Babe, but he does know that the quality of players today is much inferior to the teams of recent years. "They just haven't got it," he said.

HALF MILLION IN BIG LEGION BALL SCHEDULE

Close To 20,000 Teams To Play; Majors Give $20,000 For Traveling

With $20,000 from the two major leagues again available for traveling expenses, the American Legion throughout the nation, has issued the annual call for spring training for more than 500,000 teams in 17 years of age, for the 18th annual season of its junior baseball program.

More than 20,000 teams will be organized, with nationwide competition starting June 30. The contributions from organized baseball help to defray costs of moving state, regional and sectional winners to tournament centers.

The 1943 American Legion junior baseball program is dedicated according to Homer L. Chailaux, national Americanism director of the American Legion in Indianapolis, Ind., to the young men—thousands upon thousands of them—who formerly played Legion baseball and are now in another kind of uniform—Uncle Sam's uniform.

Only amateurs are eligible to play on American Legion junior baseball teams. Players must not have reached their 17th birthday before January 1, 1943. In order to enforce the age limits, the American Legion requires every boy who enrolls in its junior baseball program to present a certified copy of his birth certificate. Teams are permitted to carry 15 players.

Chailaux Confident
Director Chailaux expressed his belief he would have no difficulty in securing transportation for his junior baseball teams in national tourney play, since only existing scheduled train and bus services will be used.

ORIOLES-LEAFS PLAY 21-INNING TIE ON FRIDAY

(International News Service)
BALTIMORE, April 24.—The Baltimore and Toronto go the honors of playing the longest game of the infant baseball season yesterday. The clash was the longest in the 41-year history of the circuit.

AMPLE FACILITIES
Marine Corps sports facilities at Camp Pendleton, Calif., include 56 basketball and tennis courts and 61 softball diamonds.

LOT OF CONTESTANTS
More than 300 contestants entered the first field day events at Kessler Field, Miss.

Wartime Racing Begins At Downs

Clark Handicap Feature Today; Seven Hearts Out Of Derby Classic

BIG DERBY TRIAL LISTED ON TUESDAY

(International News Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 24.—A 19-day racing meet which will include the 69th running of the Kentucky Derby gets under way at Churchill Downs outside Louisville today.

In addition to the $75,000 derby, such stakes as the Clark handicap, today's main event, derby trial, Debutante, Balford Manor, Kentucky Oaks and Kentucky handicap will be offered.

The Clark handicap is a $2,500 allowance event for three-year-olds at one and one-half miles. Entered are Ball Seller, Three Clovers, Sweep Saunter, Anti Climax, Last Gold, Best Shot, Put, Corydon and Aletern.

Trial On Tuesday
None of the derby candidates whose chances are taken seriously will be in action today. Several will test themselves in the derby trial next Tuesday, while others, including Count Fleet, won't go to the post until derby day.

One of the gloomiest spots at the Downs today was the stable of J. Graham Brown whose mount Seven Hearts was declared out of the derby late Friday.

The grand slam fellow carried the hopes of many fans following his brilliant win of the Arkansas derby. After his dismal showing in the Bluegrass stakes here Wednesday, it was feared an old foot injury had reoccurred. Brown said an examination confirmed his fears.

Van Robays Sent To Toronto Leafs

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—Maury Van Robays, Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder, and Rookie Pitcher Alfred Jarrett today were optioned to the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International league on 24-hour recall.

Van Robays played three and a half seasons with the Bucc and batted 232 last year. Jarrett was purchased by the Pirates from Harrisburg of the Interstate league where he won 16 games last season.

Sports Ramblings

Sports rhapsodies:—

Geneva College's strong man is Norman Currie. The ex-Shenango Township high grid blocker, an efficient varsity tackle on the football gridiron force, is the ace weight man on the crack team. "Chuck" Schwensberg, the Sportsman's Revolver club secretary, is handing out cigars. It's a boy. . . . The Rev. Fr. Raymond A. Must, a sweet symphony on the tennis court during his school days, is in New Kensington. . . .

"Buz" Ridd, crack guard on the Westminster team which participated in the national invitational basketball tourney in Madison Square Garden, a couple of seasons back, is stationed at Camp Lee, Virginia. Ridd, no doubt, is well acquainted with Billy Conn, who was transferred from the same camp less than a week ago. . . .

Knickerbockers—Show me dept.: Buck Harris, game pilot of the Phillies, says, "I'm going to make Rowe pitch winning ball." The OVI and U. S. Army are airing the major league games to the armed forces through the War theatres via special broadcasts. . . . Friend Pat Robinson, back from the South Pacific, says that sport news is second only to letters from home. . . .

Pat Kennedy, No. 1 basketball whistle tooter, has been added to the International League ball and strike calling corps. Hank Marino, Milwaukee ten pin bowling ace, has 17 games of 300 to his list during his 33-year career. . . . Outfielder Johnny Rucker, of the Giants, is in 4-F due to a spinal ailment. . . . Hugh Fullerton, Jr., N. Y. scribe, writes that the Phillies, who plan playing morning baseball, "may be trying to help discourage absenteeism."

Quick Pickups:-

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 24.—If Warren Giles, head of Cincinnati, keeps collecting they may change their minds about the ball now in use. . . . This is one year when they need a lively ball above everything if they hope to get any customers to the ball games. With virtually all of the big hitters gone, they need a ball that will travel at least as far as that one of 1942 otherwise nearly all games will be pitchers' battles. And there is nothing so utterly uninteresting as watching a couple of pitchers preventing everybody from doing anything.

RAISED ON SLUGGING
What the people who run the game fail to realize is that this generation was raised up on slugging. That's what we want. And if there isn't any rubber for the baseballs then let the chemists figure out something else. But don't try to get along with a ball even deader than that one last year. Which was so bad that the hitters were holier their heads off. . . . There must be some way to build a baseball better than that one they are using now. It is as a matter of fact, at least 25 feet shorter in 300 feet than the dead 1942 ball, which was no bargain. . . . That means what?

RETARDS GAME
It means that a lot of hits that ordinarily would clear the fence for a homer or bounce off it for extra bases will fall into a glove for an easy out, and that a lot of punches that might get through the infield for a safe single will be turned into an easy double play. It means that baseball is backing up about 20 years.

The dead ball was all right back in the old days. That was the only ball they ever knew. But the game was revolutionized in the Ruth era with the rabbit ball and that is what we have grown up on. . . . That's what we want.

Perhaps the hitters will catch up with the pitchers soon. But that is doubtful. The big hitters are gone, as previously mentioned, and those around now include a lot of young gangsters who are looking at the major league stuff for the first time. In normal years they still would be back in the minors. Baseball had better wake up quick or they are going to have a season folding up about Labor Day.

HERE'S BOX SCORE
Look at what has happened so far. Four shutouts in four games Wednesday. Three shutouts in six games Thursday. One home run in 10 games. Attendance off by many thousands. In that respect they expected 75,000 for the Yankee-Senator and Dodger-Giant games in New York Thursday, according to local headlines. They drew an aggregate of slightly more than 25,000.

That's a difference of 50,000.

Titan Tennis Team Schedule Wide Open

New Castle District Team Invited To Play; Collegiate Foes Scarce

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 24.—Prof. Walter Biberich, coach of the Westminster college tennis team, is anxious to contact any New Castle district tennis teams who would be interested in booking matches with the Titan squad.

Because of transportation difficulties and lack of manpower, the majority of district colleges have cancelled tennis schedules. Westminster plans to carry on with the sport and this spring, for the first time in the history of the school, an invitation has been given to co-eds to try out for the team.

To date, seven co-eds and eight collegians have reported for practice sessions.

Eighth Shutout Brings Action; A's. Rip Bosox

Majors Promised New Pellet Within Two Weeks; Athletics Cop. 5-0

INFERIOR RUBBER CEMENT IS BLAMED

By JOHN CASHMAN

I. N. S. Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 24.—After the Philadelphia Athletics officially branded the 1943 baseball as having a blutwurst center, through the medium of yesterday's 5 to 0 shutout over the Boston Red Sox, the fans will no doubt be eager to rush to the ball yards to watch the continuation of what is now known as the "shutout plague."

The reason for lack of life in the 1943 ball which was forwarded yesterday by Lou Coleman, vice-president of the A. G. Spalding Co., lies in the inferior rubber cement used between layers of wool in the ball. The cement, Coleman said, hardened to a point where the wool in the wall was affected.

Gripping Ends
This brought an end to the furious gripping demands for action and elaborate tests of the ball brought about by its performance to date. From Maine to California and upper Michigan and Louisiana people were dropping the 1942 and 1943 balls off buildings, side by side, to see how their bounce compared.

MAKING O'NEILL'S NO POKER PLAYER
DETROIT, April 24.—As if losing it across the table isn't enough, members of the Detroit Tigers stand to lose an additional $500 if they're caught drawing to those inside straights and flushes.

Manager Steve O'Neill announces that his Bengals will draw in the heavy time if he walks in and finds "em indulging in a game of 'poker'."

The tests brought out the fact that the ball was 25 per cent deader than the 1942 sphere. . . . However, hitless batters and runless teams will have to put up with the ball as it is for at least two weeks. That's how long it is going to take to replace the dead balls with the new livelier ones. In the meantime, a home run will be regarded as a precious rarity.

The A's performance marked the eighth blank-out in 11 official games and with both leagues ready to play their first full schedule the shutout plague will continue. The crowds, however, promise to be much bigger than they were yesterday. If only for the fact that there was only one game to be seen yesterday and the sole crowd numbered 2,819.

Christopher Winner
The Athletics won yesterday thru the pitching of Russ Christopher and Linn Harris, who believed the beleaguered Russ in the eighth inning. This brought up the A's average to a magnificent .333. Which is not quite as good as the A's final average for 1942, which was a solid .357, best in the league if one views the standings while standing on his head.

WPAIL RELAYS UNDERWAY TODAY
Annual Connellsville WPAIL relays are being staged today. Eighteen schools are competing. . . . Because bad weather retarded practice sessions, New Castle high decided to pass up the event.

Best War Gags Chosen By Prominent Funnymen

By WALTER KUERNAN
(International News Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, April 24.—The war has produced many gags, some of them good. International News Service asked Broadway and Hollywood comedians and comedienne to nominate the best war gags they've heard or told and here's what we got.

Martha Raye, just back from a swing of army camps in England and North Africa, heard this one: "Actress on visit to isolated army camp in far north approaches officer and says: 'I haven't had a decent meal in days. Where do I eat?' At the soldiers' mess says the officer: 'Yes, I know' says the actress, but where do I eat?"

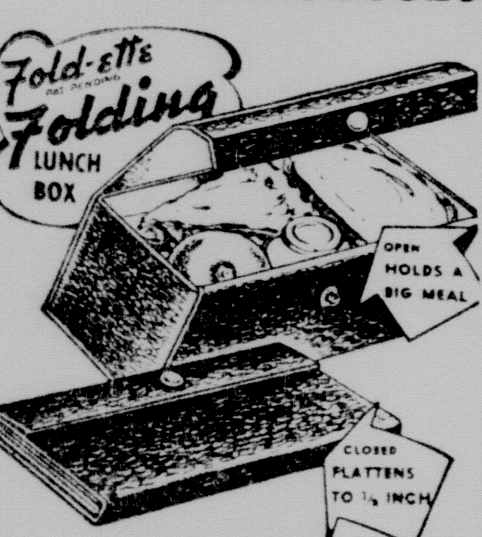

"Thank you Martha but the original gag was in 'One Man's Opinion' on May 26, 1942. It went this way: 'One applicant for the Y.A.A.C. asked where will I eat?' The lieutenant said you'll mess with the officers. She said I expected that, but where will I eat?"

The Lookie And The C. O.
Groucho Marx's favorite gag is about the army recruit spending his first day in camp. He met the commanding officer as he strolled and when he failed to salute, the C. O. stopped him and said: "Young man, don't you know you're always supposed to salute an officer here? You don't even salute me... the commanding officer of this field? I have full charge of everything here, the buildings, equipment, all the men, everything! What have you got to say?"

"You've got a swell job here," answered the rookie "now don't go anything to lose it up!"
Phil Baker nominates this gag:
The flying fortresses are going out so fast that one of them opened its bomb rack over Tunisia the other day and you know what fell out? (No—what fell out?) A night shirt!

Jack Benny's Choice
Jack Benny offers up a dialect story which goes as follows:
Joe: Ah joined the army Sam. How about you gosh in?
Sam: No me... I'm afraid of gettin' killed!
Joe: There's nuthin' to be afraid of—the odds are a million to one in your favor. Don't you know that there's only one bullet with your name on it?

Sam: I ain't worried about the bullet with my name on it. I'm worried about the one that says "to whom it may concern!"
Eddie Cantor reports:
"See where General Rommel is already with his Easter suit. He's got a zoot suit with a retreat."

OWI Efforts Fail To Create Demand For Fourth Term

Senator Wherry Asserts Public Sentiment Strong Against Possibility Of It

By HORACE M. COATES
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 24.—Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry (R) Neb., said on Friday that efforts of the Office of War Information to create a popular demand for a fourth term for President Roosevelt "have fallen flat."

The Nebraska senator, who also is western director for the Republican national committee, and who has just returned from a trip to Kansas City, Mo., and his home state, declared that public sentiment on the fourth term issue transcends all other topics in public and private discussions.

"I contacted many persons on my trip to the Midwest," Wherry said, "and in all conversations on topics of public interest the fourth term movement arouses greater interest than even the question of post-war problems."

"And yet, Elmer Davis of the Office of War Information tells the senate judiciary committee that the fourth term talk hasn't yet reached the status of news. Mr. Davis doesn't consider it news because he weighs it on the scales of a created demand. And if they haven't created the demand yet, then they have fallen flat in their efforts."

Wherry is co-author with Sen. Styles Bridges (R) N. H., of a proposed amendment to the federal constitution they plan to introduce soon which would limit the tenure of the president's office to two terms.

"The only way to safeguard the American people and preserve the system of checks and balances in our government is to permit the people to vote on such a constitutional amendment," Wherry said.

American Diplomats In Finland Ordered To Withdraw By U.S.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 23.—The state department today revealed that part of the American legation staff in Helsinki, Finland, has been ordered withdrawn.

A state department spokesman declined to disclose the reason for the withdrawal beyond describing it as an administrative move.

Reports have been current recently that Germany was bringing pressure to bear on Finland to take a more active part in the war against Russia. It is considered possible that American move may be intended as a warning to Finland against succumbing to German pressure.

There are strong indications that if Finland should resort to any offensive military action against Russia, the American government would immediately sever diplomatic relations and might even go so far as to declare war.

PRICES MUST BE HELD IN CHECK

Administration Leaders Believe That They Can Hold Anti-
Inflation Line

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—High administration officials today were reported to be confident that they can hold the anti-inflation line despite bitter protests of labor against wage controls and demands of producers for higher prices.

Economic Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes, spearhead of the administration effort, has advised friends that a strong battle not only will be waged to prevent a spiraling cost of living, but he is certain that the program can succeed.

Influential members of the Senate and House are strongly supporting the administration effort, although they are under heavy pressure from minority groups.

"I think it is important to hold in check price levels," said Sen. Walter F. George (D) Ga., chairman of the Senate finance committee.

"We must maintain salaries and wages. It is, however, more important to all of us who receive wages and salaries than any other element that prices be held in check. We have all the basic elements of inflation present. Our task is to prevent them from running away."

The one big problem facing the administration is John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and the possibility of a strike in the bituminous coal industry.

The War Labor Board, already under attack by labor for its decision to stick to the "Little Steel" wage formula, today plunges into the United Mine Workers wage controversy.
